"The Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor doth thank His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, accept their benevolence and assent to this Bill in His Majesty's name."

His Honour was then pleased to deliver the following gracious speech:—

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

It is now my duty to prorogue this session of the Twenty-second Legislature of the Province of Ontario. In doing so I wish to thank you in the name of His Majesty for your faithful application to the public questions which have been placed before you for decision. The legislation which my Government has brought forward and which you have considered and approved is of unusual variety and importance.

To mention only a few of the ninety-nine public bills, there are important provisions to support the building of new housing accommodation in the Province; a measure to encourage the production and improve the distribution of milk; a bill which will establish a code of labour and industrial relations in uniformity with the federal law on this subject; a bill to provide new and increased support to public hospitals, and other health and welfare measures of considerable importance and extent. Furthermore, in all fields of provincial government and administration, education, agriculture, mining, administration of justice, highways, public works, municipal affairs, reform institutions, and lands and forests, progressive measures have been given legislative sanction in keeping with the expansion and development of the Province which is now taking place.

In a further bill of unassuming proportions the legal foundation has been laid for a great transformation in our public hydro-electric power system. Not only is there to be a change in the frequency from 25 to 60 cycles but the expansion of its power-producing capacities, already undertaken, will be pushed forward to provide the hydro-electric energy which will be needed in our expanding economy, not only in industry and in urban centres but throughout every part of rural Ontario.

In thirty-one private bills you have also dealt with many special subjects requiring legislative action.

It is neither necessary nor desirable to review at length the many other measures which have been occupying your attention during the past six weeks.

I should like, however, to refer briefly to the tragic events of the past few days which have thrown a shadow of sadness over your proceedings. The death of Dr. Gordon Millen, the Member for Riverdale, after a long illness, cut short a life which had been devoted in an unusual degree to public affairs and public service. This loss was followed by the tragic accident last Wednesday night, when Mr. William Robertson, the Member for Wentworth, was struck down and killed on the highway, just outside the Parliament Buildings, and his companion and associate in the Legislature, Mr. Garfield Anderson, Member for Fort William, was seriously injured. Mr. Robertson, only 51 years of age, came from Scotland to Canada in 1926, and had served in the Ontario Legislature since 1943. These misfortunes have shocked and grieved not only their families and those associated with them, but all the people of the Province. Our sympathy goes to the families and friends of Dr. Millen and Mr. Robertson and our respect is extended to the memory of these two Members, who will long be held in grateful esteem not only for their useful public service but also for their warm personal qualities.

Satisfactory financial provision has been made for the ensuing year, and it is a matter of great encouragement that ample funds have been provided without any new or increased taxation. This, combined with the surplus of last year, resulting in the greatest reduction in the public debt in any single year, is indicative of the high level of productivity and employment which the Province is now enjoying.

I conclude with an expression of my gratitude for the appropriations of public funds which I have just mentioned and with a renewal of my thanks for your services as legislators. It is my confident hope that under the guidance of Divine Providence the legislation which you have enacted at this session will advance substantially the general welfare and security of the people of this Province.

The Provincial Secretary then said:—
